Aint nobody gonna right my wrongs,
Gonna hold my hands steady when I hit the floor tonight.
Aint nobody gonna right your wrongs,
But I'll hold your hair back if you need the bowl tonight.
We're always wasted but that's how we roll.
Coming off jaded,
Baby can we make it?
Time out time in!
If I sing it aloud will you sing it again?
Always caught up in the wrong frame of mind
Sick of waiting for my stars to align
When they do,
Will you be the last in the line?
If I see the glow will you be mine oh mine?

You, my overpass.
On the ice where we fell down, dropped the glass
I asked, what you sipping on?
Said I'm sipping on this for you, but my hands are tied!
Now I'm thinking about things I'd like to say.
Sipping on till I feel no pain!
She likes the rain,
But my sunshine never came.

I don't know if it's right or wrong,
But you riddle me this, so I carry on.
If the beggar believes in the future,
Can the rolling stone ever trade his place to become the chooser?
Is there anything in life to fear, if you've survived a little blood, sweat, and tears?
I lament when broken hearted,
But I only fear death because I might not know when I'm departed!
Goodbye if your hands are tied!
Scratch that, just miss when that ass was mine!
I'm so dazed, but not the least confused,
Sipping on this for you...

It will never be right it will never be wrong.
I knew it at the bar still I asked what you sipping on?

Now I'm thinking about things I'd like to say.
Sipping on till I feel no pain.
She likes the rain,
But my sunshine never came.

You my overpass,
The bridge that connects my past to the existing atmosphere
Through all the years, the fork in the road never disappeared.
Two roads diverged in a yellow wood
I saw the beauty in the world from where I stood.
And yours being grassy and wanting wear,
If you're the road not taken, baby take me there!
You did.
So it gets revisited it in my mind,
Only for the short time
But the mold was cast.
One thing about me is I erase the trash,
But I can't discard if the impression lasts!
Yours did.
So in the figurative,
Do you take me for a long shot who aint got what it takes to win?
Cause I aint running this track to loose.
If your bridge is iced I've got to change my route...

Cause it will never be right it will never be wrong!
I knew it at the bar still I asked what you sipping on?
Now I'm thinking about things I'd like to say.
Sipping on till I feel no pain!
She likes the rain,
But my sunshine never came.

Side effects of sipping on sunshine yeah,
Side effects of sipping on sunshine yeah, yeah.
And I said, side effects of sipping on sunshine,
Side effects of sipping on sunshine yeah, yeah.

Cause it will never be right it will never be wrong!
I knew it at the bar still I asked what you sipping on?
Now I'm thinking about things I'd like to say.
Sipping on till I feel no pain!
She likes the rain,
But my sunshine never came!
