You were my every dream and fantasy
Till you broke my heart
Now every second feels like hours cos you're not around
It's killing me

And though I try I can't wipe out the past
Or replace what once was true
And though I'm smiling it tears me up inside
No one gets me like you

I thought I'd found my fairytale happy ending
I thought I chased away the grey skies and tears
I thought that maybe baby you were different
But I'm just another of your heartbroken casualties

You were the one who made me fall so hard
Then didn't catch me
Made me believe that I could be the one
You just used me

And though I try I can't wipe out the past
Or replace what once was true
And though I'm smiling it tears me up inside
No one gets me like you

I thought I'd found my fairytale happy ending
I thought I chased away the grey skies and tears
I thought that maybe baby you were different
But I'm just another of your heartbroken casualties

I thought I'd found my fairytale happy ending
I thought I chased away the grey skies and tears
I thought that maybe baby you were different
But I'm just another of your heartbroken casualties
