Oh... oh

I hear you call
So close you came but now
You're fading
We knew we'd fall
I ran towards where you were
Waiting
But I didn't find you there
Oh, I thought you'll see me
Does anybody are
Does anyone
Oh oh

Turn around I know you have to leave
We breathe the pain coz you and I are weak

Oh... oh
Drifting back
Hurting and it's losing faith
At loss for words
To cover up the selfish deeds
Losing space, all that is left unseen
And I didn't find you there
Oh you weren't there

Here we are again up close to one another
To face the truth, we want
To be without each other
You and I built a wall
But now it's crumbling down
We let it fall
We lost what we've found
Turn around I know you have to leave
But you'll always be with me
Turn around I know you have to leave
We breath the pain
Coz you and I are weak
