It was pulled away by force when I began this quest they took away the spark my future, life of bliss face of blood they left me near death but full of hate to leave without a trace and take away my mate journey of my major decline minor of joy tears to dry

I seem to fly drifting through space and time flying to my destiny I can't seem to find anyone who's in my way will know the price to pay I'm numb but don't count me out my odyssey will end one day the quest has made me tough entombed in solitude I reached my goal and thus a better man saved you it was a conspiracy!
