Crystal Gayle & Gary Morris

There's a place, it's always left unguarded
Dreams light up the darkness
The secrets can be shared
Where only tender words are spoken
And if your heart is open
My love will take you there

I dream of giving you all of this and more
We're awkward, we'll stand true, a harbour in the storm
A never-ending love is what you've waited for
I know that we can find all of this and more

Picture this, it's all you ever wanted
Every time our hearts beat
It's right before your eyes
Love's so strong, it never could be mentioned
A love to last forever
A love that never dies

I dream of giving you all of this and more
We're awkward, we'll stand true, a harbour in the
storm
A never-ending love is what you've waited for

I'll take you in when you start to stumble
Hold you if you fall
Here's a shoulder you can always lean on

I dream of giving you all of this and more
We're awkward, we'll stand true, a harbour in the
storm
A never-ending love is what you've waited for
All of this and more
All of this and more
