Love isn't enough in troubled times
Takes a whole lot of understanding and truth Keeping heart and soul alive, making it through every day
It takes more, more, more than love

Having to slowly count to ten Knowing you're right and still giving in Learning how to say you're wrong, that's the hardest part of all
It takes more, more, more than love

Love keeps growing, getting stronger every day Long after the honeymoon is over, Love has to find a way
To carry on, even in the darkest hour, when you really need a friend
It takes more, more, more than love
It takes more, more, more than love

Keeping heart and soul alive, making it through every
It takes more, more, more than love
It takes more, more, more than love
It takes more, more, more than love
It takes so much more, more, more than love

More than love, mmm
When you really need a friend
Oh, it takes more than love
Oh, it takes more than love
