Yes you've lost inside my eyes.
Like a hundred burning candles in the night.
Where every star is shining bright for you.
And the morning sun waits only for you.
There we are again the next in line.
How the hell did you get that power over me.
Well I know it must all be inside my mind.
Cause I know it's not my heart.
Already played out all that part.
And I know it must be something else to do with time.
You see me waiting anticipating in this game it's me.
Regret.
You see me waiting anticipating in this game it's me.
Regret.
