(Red Allen - Tommy Sutton)

Today I'm here thinking about you
It seems I don't know what to do
No way to turn the things you look for
It hurts to know that I lost you.

It hurts to know you're with another
Have to watch you put me through
It hurts to start my life all over
To start all over without you.

--- Instrumental ---

Someday my darling he will leave you
Just like the one he left before
And then you'll know how much it hurts you
You'll cry, can't sleep and walk the floor.

It hurts to know you're with another
Have to watch you put me through
It hurts to start my life all over
To start all over without you.,,
