(Paul Craft)

When time was young we walked the roads together
When love was sweet I meant the world to you
Now come the sun we'll say goodbye forever
And teardrops will kiss the morning dew.

Take me and make me your lover one more time
Close in your arms as before
Till o'er your shoulder the early morning shines
Then I'll leave you and breath you no more.

When time was young we walked the roads together
When love was sweet I meant the world to you
Now come the sun we'll say goodbye forever
And teardrops will kiss the morning dew.

Daisies need sunshine and roses need rain
So it was all meant to be
The wild bird needs wings free to take to the wind
And so it must be with you and me.

When time was young we walked the roads together
When love was sweet I meant the world to you
Now come the sun we'll say goodbye forever
And teardrops will kiss the morning dew.

And teardrops will kiss the morning dew...
