(Bobby Osborne - Pete Goble)

I used to think I was too big to cry
You came along and when you left I thought that I would die
But time and tears have made the change and with some help I'm free
But all you left was a shell of a man I used to be Tears are no strangers to me, tears are no strangers to me.

--- Instrumental ---

You're crying now the way I used to do I sympathise and understand because I've cried some too
That's over now I'll take you back we'll find new wings to fly
Let's make a vow that tears of joy are all we'll cry Tears are no strangers to me, tears are no strangers to me.

Tears are no strangers to me...
