

Crystal Kovach "Brave"

Visit "Brave" on MotoLyrics.com

What does it matter now / The time has passed Don't need permission to come in last
So what's the difference if I put myself on the line
I only end up killing time

I can't help wondering if you're for real Words falling from your mouth, that's how I feel Careful what you say, I might agree You're seeing something in me that's I've been trying to see

Chorus

Hey you in the corner come out and play
You're not the shy little girl who always caves
And you're almost brave, almost believing almost brave, almost believing that wicked girls can win

It's not all bad if you look at how each little flaw became who I am now Look at you, look at me, we are nothing like everyone I see / That's good enough for me

Chorus

Visit Crystal Kovach page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.