Behold the end is in sight
The fear, the anger subsides and now we only lock eyes

I feel you coming alive
So weave your fingers in mine
The flesh is colder than ice

Tell me something I know
Tell me slow

Release the fever you spread
Forget whatever I said
And move your hand down my leg

Heal me like that...
My oh my love
So this is what it was
This is what you go on about

The rush of blood in my veins that I can hardly contain
I won't question again

Now I've lost my breath, you leave me breathless
In your arms

I can't remember why there was even a fight
My oh my, oh my, my love
