Half of me is gone to find someone of my own
Half of me is here to fall in love
I am too proud to plead
I am too young to bleed
I need you badly now and it feel's so sweet

Baby I am broken without you
I think I am going mad or am I just blue
And all I want is to be with you and be me
Cause in your eyes I found a Love For Free

Give me just a smile, laugh for me and cry
All we have is now before goodbye

Something in your eyes I can't compromise
It's easy to pretend hard to understand

And when something is wrong out of control
You give me just a smile, laugh for me and cry

Don't you draw the line I am not that kind of a guy
That you can deny and all we have is NOW!
