Virtue turns to vice, being misapplied.
And vice sometimes by actions dignified.
Now I have an axe to grind.

There's safety in numbers but yours are depleting.
I won't turn my cheek this is something worth seeing.

The best laid schemes always hit the ground running.
Until it leads to dissatisfaction to the worst degree.
I thought you were on to something.
I'll leave you behind and watch them eat you alive.
Look what you've got yourself into now

I thought that you would learn your lesson
But you came back for more.
You can speak fast or talk real slow, do anything.
You've worn out your welcome now.

I hope that you know that this is denial
The best means of confession.

The best laid schemes always hit the ground running.
Until it leads to dissatisfaction to the worst degree.
I thought you were on to something.
I'll Leave you behind and watch them eat you alive.
Look what you've got your into now.

"Break"

The best laid schemes always hit the ground running.
Until it leads to dissatisfaction to the worst degree.
I thought you were on to something.
I'll Leave you behind and watch them eat you alive.
Look what you've got your into now.
