You, you, you

You haven't seen the world outside for days
You sleep, you hope, you wait
Imagination disappears
And all the dreams you have you save
Confrontation like a mirror
They try to take your mind away

Hey hey, I don't know, but I believe in yesterday
And what it means to bleed
And know that you're okay

Are you waiting?
No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you

No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you

You, you, you

Bombarded by the atmosphere
You breath, you choke, you breath again
Conversation disappears
You realize they're not your friends
The panic of the future rears
You dig, you jerk, you find another way

Hey hey, I don't know, but I believe in yesterday
And what it means to bleed
And know that you're okay

Are you waiting?
No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you

No matter what you say
No matter what you do

No matter what, I'm always right there behind you

You open up my veins
Now I don't feel the same, no no no
You open up my brain
But I won't be replaced, no no no

No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you

No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you

No matter what you say
No matter what you do
No matter what, I'm always right there behind you

No matter what you say
No matter what you do
