I've got a friend that no one knows
But everyone loves
You should hear yourself talking to me
We're not friends with any benefits
And conversations in person are so much better

This song is for you
But memories are from us
Do you need me like I need you?
Commit this to memory and bury me
Inside all your thoughts and picture frames

We'll never know what will happen next
As I wear your heart on my chest
Write my name over your hands
As I compare you to the rest
Last nights affection
Becomes tomorrows new topic

This song is for you
But memories are from us
Do you need me like I need you?
Commit this to memory and bury me
Inside all your thoughts and picture frames

It takes a lot to make me
It takes a lot to break me down
Tonight we'll sing a sweeter song of change
