

Out Of Reverie

"Stay What You Are"

These past few moments have been so real
But now it's over so wake up and feel
Everything that was said and done
You can pack your bags and turn and run

You can write the saddest songs
In hopes we'll feel your sorrow
But as for me I'll be fine
Without all your uncertain looks
And awkward goodbyes tonight

Please stay what you are
There's no need to change
We have come this far
I'm out of reverie now
And onto something new
That something new is not you

You can write the saddest songs
In hopes we'll feel your sorrow
But as for me I'll be fine
Without all your uncertain looks
And awkward goodbyes tonight

I'm out of reverie now
And onto something new
That something new is not you
