You're feeling good sensations
Delirium in your mind
They could not get pulsation
So needless is all this fight
A cold wind blows over you
Whispering your last rites
Flat line brain death forever
Now you fly into the never

A shooting light calls you to Join this revealing ride
You're floating on a vague haze
Fearing your own dead eyes

Oh what a good day is today...
C'mon and take my fading hand!

[Chorus:]
And today
Don't be afraid cause this day's
A good day to die
With no regrets
Face death
Say a prayer
And go with a smile

All the things you did in your life
Emerge in front of you
Happy moments, scary torments
Came back just to tell the truth
You're the one to be the judge
Pronounce your final doom

Heaven tell the never
Welcome the new dweller

Now your mission is completed
You silently realize
We're living just to die
Dying to another life

Oh what a good day is today...
C'mon, and take my fading hand!

[Chorus]
