Scrambling to regain the shards of ideals shattered before me
Terror to release all that binds me to this pitted Earth

This day remains charred

Immersed in the pools of reason
Deny the weight of gravity
Spiralling in rhythm of heartbeats
Embracing this virgin reality

Chemical agent transforms me
Angel wings rise, unbound from flesh
Sight open to all dimensions
Revel in the power on this day of rebirth

Like the moments of death...
My life streams by in flashes
Interwound...
With the dream of the ancient

Annotated with knowledge from journeys of past
Bleeding slowly into the streams of the everlasting
Not losing myself but growing into everything

Spiraling, pondering, unwinding, never ending.
