"The Life Of Death"

Memories are all that's left of the way you were You're free to change
And reach out from this world for life
Empty you will find
This world to be an deverything
You will try
To fill the void of your life only to find
You've died
Search to find... you've died
In the end... you've died
No more peace... you've died
For God so loved the world
He gave his only begotten son
That whosoever believes in him
They shall not die
But have eternal life
It's not too late
I see the best in you
Forever my friend
I will be true
