Verse:

My eyes have seen the glory of you
My heart has witnessed what your love can do
I've fallen but your compassion sets in
You hold me tighter than I can comprehend

Chorus:

I can see Your life pass by
On these pages hope survives
Why can't we realize
That we all are lost

Verse:

I sacrifice all that I am
So that providence can move this God made man
I've squandered my time but not anymore
You have shown me what this life is for

Bridge:

Why must there be a million eyes
That see me lead an imperfect life
Why do they only see the weak links in my chain
It's not God, but only me to blame
Excuses can never excuse what I have done
Repentance has shown me the face of God's own son
God only knows what tomorrow has in store
But until then He's shown me, what this life is for
