I forgot my face, my memorys thin
Ive sold my soul to tell my heart Ive lived
Another place to hide, it's all Ive gained
I left behind my favourite things too soon vanished,
Well absorbed in one song, and after all :
Should I have played so much ?
I think it shattered my innerself
Should I have played so much ?
I think it shattered my innocence
And when I fake at living, I face the ground,
For what goes on between you and I,
Ive betrayed you
And when I fake at living, I face the ground,
For what goes on,
Ive betrayed you
I ruin myself, face to face
Ive sold my soul to tell my heart Im living
Another hit, it is all Ive made
Ive messed about with my favourite pills too soon purchased,
Well absorb in one day, and after all :
Should I have played so much ?
I think it shattered my innerself
Should I have played so much ?
I think it shattered my innocence,
And even then, if you find me reaching high,
For what goes on to reach my borderlines
Ive still betrayed you
And even then, if you find me reaching high,
For what goes on
Ive betrayed you
