Watchout, Cyclops is loose
Beware, Cyclops is loose
Watchout, Cyclops is loose
Beware, Cyclops is loose
On the seas of the lost horizon
Where blood red rivers flow like wine
There is an island I know named Colossus
Mysterious land from forgotten times...
Upon the ridge of the giant Roc
Massive two-headed bird of prey
Here stands the lair of the Cyclops mighty
All human kind is doomed today
A single eye now watches closely
From the safety of his mountain home
No known weapons made can harm him
It feasts on human flesh and bone
One day came a mighty sailor
To seek the shell of the giant bird
An ingredient of most importance
To restore size to the Princess he served
One day came the mighty Sinbad

To seek the shell of the giant bird
He came upon the weakened Cyclops
Of this massive beast he had not heard
A fearsome battle soon began
Between the giant and the man
Sinbad fearless stood his ground
And through the valley came the sound
Sinbad The Sailor emerges triumphant
The awesome Cyclops has now met it's match
Never again to bring fear to the island
Ending his reign of dark terror at last..
On the seas of the lost horizon
Where blood-red rivers flow like wine
There lies the island that's known as Colossus
Mysterious land of forgotten times...
