Cold and frozen plains
Winter storms and druid games
From another time, in a distant time
Ice men bold with ice and blue steel
Mages spinning northern spells
Cast upon the world, an ancient magic world

Oh watch the Northern lights
Beyond the solid sea
The Snow Giant here is found!

The Snowy realm with snow white king
Where many venture just to see
If they can have it all, the kingdom and the throne
The giant lives but all alone
No winter knights to guard his throne
Here upon the top, the top of the world

Oh watch the Northern lights
Beyond the solid sea
The Snow Giant here is found!

Seasons pass unnoticed
The light of endless day, or dark of endless night
A king without a quest, Noble and alone
Content within his soul, the Keeper of the Chest

He stands alone to guard his home
The hordes of men to claim his throne
Upon his land they come, the wicked and the wrong
With firebolts and magic swords
Invaders storm the snow-capped fort
But all to no avail, the giant knows it well

Oh learn the lesson well
Told in this Northern tale
The Snow Giant wins once more

Snow Giant! [4x]
