He has risen, from his grave
No decision, Satan's slave

He has power, when he's one
He was vanquished, from the son
Now he stalks us, all mankind
Killing all who, show his sign

He has come with forces strong to take our land
He will try with all his might to kill off man
Ruthless tactics he's employed he steals the night
In darkest shadow his flaw is found he fears the light

People smile as he walks on by
Scared to death too much to cry
All the time they shake and stare
They know too soon he will be there

I could see a sign of life in the skies
Heaven knows it's much too late, no more lies
I feel his breath, the stench of war, rising fast
Dawn comes soon I hope to God, we just won't last

People smile as he walks on by
Scared to death too much to cry
All the time they shake and stare
They know too soon he will be there

Now you've seen the truth and light, don't be late
Christ has come to tend his flocks he just can't wait
He has come to kill the beast and save all man
Now in peace forever more the Earth will stand

People smile as he walks on by
Scared to death too much to cry
All the time they shake and stare
They know too soon he will be there
