Overthrow "Reclaim"

Buried alive beneath every lie Media blitz to desensitize Now we're gonna turn the set Class order of things remains incorrect I will reclaim what's rightfully mine Cannot sit back and watch it all die

Stop and look around, it's all falling down Stop and look around, you'll turn your back, you'll turn your back to it again

Right get richer poor remain poor Enter a force into the class war

Industry interest first, maintaining his seat while we face the worst You'll turn your back, you'll turn your back to it again

What do we work so hard to achieve for? When in the end there is no change What do we go though all this struggle to see it all remain the same? But if we stand string, keep ourselves in focused, we will eventually achieve Something for ourselves.
