anything i can mistake in the dark for being what i'm looking for is good enough for me. every face i saw was the same face. anythihng i can mistake in the dark for being what i'm looking for is good enough for me. no longer soft as water must mean never was so. ask the prettiest girl in any small town. anything i can mistake in the dark for being what i'm looking for is good enough for me. every face i saw was the same face. anything i can mistake in the dark for being what i'm looking for is good enough for me. seperate and complete as a breast from its other. once you can see the end its all over. i wanted to show you all the men that say hello to me. i wanted to show you all the men in the bar or on the street, in any cafe. and see me say, yeah amen everyman, there's no real anyone.
