i feel unhappy,i am so sad ive lost the best friend,that i eva had shes my baby,i love her so but its to late now,ive let her go were going through changes,were going through changes

we shared the years,we shared each day i love you daddy,but ive found my way you no the world,is a evil place my babys grown now,shes found her way

changes

it took so long,to realise and i can still hear,his last good-bye now all my days,are filled with fear wish i could go back,and change the years

changes
were going through ... changes

changes
changes
