Life it seems so great but they all don't last Seasons change so fast and we're catching up There's nothing in this world that's bound to last

Clouded thoughts of memories are all I have Living in between words can be so sad There's nothing so great compared to what we have

[Chorus]

I won't wait for tomorrow or living all back in the past
I'll hold on to what is real to what we have Come with me and we will sail away from here

Ask the oceans to drown all the pain within There's so much love to share, a love so dear

[Chorus]

I won't wait for tomorrow or living all back in the
past
I'll hold on to what is real to what we have x2
