I've grown tired of fighting
Whether you're right or wrong
Whether I'm weak or strong in your eyes
This is a lonely feeling
Watching you turn away
Why does it have to be this way?
On and on tonight
You've made a point of being right
Making this a game instead of love
You should know where this goes
Someone's heart will surely be broken
Before too long
If we keep on playing this game
Of right or wrong
Who's right and who's wrong
When love is gone?
Who's right or wrong, false or true?
Never used to matter to you
You're almost crying
Saying, "I've gotta run"
Easier said than done, tell me why

I got to know what you're hiding
Turn around and look at me
I've never been this hard to see before
If we'd only come together
For a moment here tonight
You could hold me tight
And ease your troubled mind
You should know where this goes
Someone's heart will surely be broken
Before too long
If we keep on playing this game
Of right or wrong
Who's right and who's wrong
When love is gone?
Who's right or wrong, false or true?
Who's right, who's wrong
When love is gone?
Who's right or wrong, false or true?
Never mattered to you, little girl
Who's right, who's wrong
When love is gone?
Who's right or wrong, false or true?
Right or wrong, lady
Right or wrong, baby
I'm right, you're wrong, lady

You're right, I'm wrong, baby

Right or wrong, lady

Right or wrong, baby

You're right, I'm wrong, baby

Right or wrong, lady

Right or wrong, baby

You're right, I'm wrong, baby

Right or wrong, lady

Right or wrong, baby

I'm right, you're wrong, lady

You're right, I'm wrong, baby

Talking about who's right or wrong

It never really matters

When your love is gone

Making me shout this right is wrong

If all our loving is gone
