We've been so close for all this time
How could I have known?
No more those lips your hand in mine
Forced to walk alone
And now the hours all but fade
It hurts to look back on the memories
All that got away

With you, you're all I needed
With you, I felt completed
With you, you're so irreplaceable
I'll never find another

And I sat alone and on the train
And you were on your own
All of the steps I had retraced
I took the long way home
And now the tears have all but dried
You left my broken heart un mended
Left me to survive, but not with you

With you, you're all I needed
With you, I felt completed
With you, you're so irreplaceable
I'll never find another

For all who come my way
Your ghost it still remains
For all who come my way
Oh-- the life I had with you
