All we ever had is our freedom and friends,
We haven't had to work don't need money to spend,
Long walks and late nights is how we roll,
Life at full speed when the tank is half full.

These times we've shared can never be replaced

So we raise our glasses high,
Sing our favourite songs to a fading skyline,
Make a toast to living well
Coz I'll live this life till there's snow in hell

As time goes by I still have no regrets,
You have a taste and you just can't forget,
Open your mouth and drink from your glass,
Coz there is no end to the dream that we have

After all these years the memories wont fade

So we raise our glasses high,
Sing our favourite songs to a fading skyline,
Make a toast to living well
Coz I'll live this life till there's snow in hell
