Escape from the real world, collusion and conspiracy Wait for the time goes by
I can't control my soul, it's like a hedgehog Stand in awe to see the wide spread world, my legs are trembling
Put up a word for freedom, hedgehog

I'm afraid of drifting
I couldn't be irresponsible
I'm afraid of just being drunk
I got lost with abundant lies

Do anything to become bigger and richer, then lose the balance
You can't control your soul, hedgehog Pretend to be angry at the narrowed world but actually accept it
The word for asking freedom is like a doodlebug

I'm afraid of drifting
I couldn't be irresponsible
I'm afraid of just being drunk
I got lost with abundant lies

Nothing, nothing, nothing, the world

Tell me what's poetic justice, the gods and buddha
You can do anything with our souls, hedgehog
The world we have expected is missing and the crucial point is blurred
We don't know what freedom is, it's like a drowned rat

I'm afraid of drifting
I couldn't be irresponsible
I'm afraid of just being drunk
I got lost with abundant lies
