Late at night whispers around my head I'm tired of your being stalking through my mind

Consequence - you pushed me full of hatred, nothing is sacred
Now blame yourself - for ending up in this shed just because I hate you and I don't care about your screams of fear

Hope that you regret it sweet revenge never to break me again the smell of kerosene running at your feet embrace mistakes, taste it as you burn out

Consequence - you pushed me full of hatred, nothing
is sacred
Now blame yourself - for ending up in this shed
just because
about your screams of fear

I tied you to this chair
my dream your nightmare

I hate you and I don't care
about your screams of fear

about your screams of fear

my dream your nightmare
