Call me unique
Call me a fake
Call me a love
Never the same
When I was young
Nobody said
To open up and let this rain go through
You
These feelings of a common sun
I never pass
And never take control
Of you
But you're running out here
Yeah you're running out here
Steady yourself
Down on your knees
All that you want
All that you feel
Can never break Can never bone
And never throw another stone at you
From me
But you're running out here
When no one's talking and no one's listening
Out here oh...
You...
Other says yes the other says no
The other says stay the other one goes
And put you in clothes
And put you in shows
The other one takes
And nobody knows
But you're running out here
When no one's talking and no one's listening
Out here...
When no one's talking and no one's listening
Out here...
When no one's talking and nobody wants
But you're running out here
Yeah ohh
Yeah ohh
Who would survive
