

Panima

"Act Of Change"

Visit "Act Of Change" on MotoLyrics.com

You begin to understand so it's time to push full force and fight like we have before And with that said we'll raise our hands we'll do all that we came for let's try to reach out for this This calls for an act of change something to stand for

[Chorus]

Like the emptiness of war we are breaking down these walls and we're right back where we started at the end and for everything we thought was so right but is no more and we're right back where we started at the end

Now you say this isn't me I'm so blind to the fact that your eyes are deceiving me Then you begin to break his heart because you see that I'm fine and I'm making it out alive
This calls for an act of change something to stand for

[Chorus]

Like the emptiness of war we are breaking down these
walls and we're right back where we started at the end
and for everything we thought was so right but is no
more and we're right back where we started at the end

You pull me back I'm reaching out for the lead I'm bringing life to this incredible beat I think they've heard all the lies that you said and I want to open the eyes of the dead

[Chorus]

Like the emptiness of war we are breaking down these
walls and we're right back where we started at the end
and for everything we thought was so right but is no
more and we're right back where we started at the end

Visit Panima page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.