Now we're back in business yeah
Oh and it seems like we'll never be
All this pain and hurt just keeps getting worse
But I'm lying now that you're mine
And comes the fire to make me escape
The full life we had unprepared
Oh I just can't resist the fall lovers kissing again
I can't let it in

Now who's the fool
Taking everything and always wanting more
Now who's the fool
We see the times we had too precious to ignore
Now I'm looking at you
What's so clear to me
Now I'm not that sure am I the fool

Now I'm here I see you pretend
And I know you try to break me an end
But oh please don't keep it up
If you have no love left to show
But I can't let go

Now who's the fool
Taking everything and always wanting more
Now who's the fool
We see the times we had too precious to ignore
Now I'm looking at you
What's so clear to me
Now I'm not that sure am I the fool

I found it hard
So hard like this
Put down this lone little sacrifice
Now tears are round/around they're falling through my eyes

Not another regret since the day we met
So much all words not hurt
They will give us wise the things you say

Now who's the fool
Taking everything and always wanting more
Now who's the fool
We see the times we had too precious to ignore
Now I'm looking at you
What's so clear to me
Now I'm not that sure am I the fool
