"White Light"

White light hovered over the patients room
As he stares blank into space
He knows he should be dying soon
White light take away the pain
White light take away the pain

So his family...sits around his hospital bed Hopes for the best
But he could care less, because his family never gave a fuck about him
So I told him, fuck family
Maybe your family is just your friends
Maybe your family is just yourself
When you been...down there, the only way is up

So I'd like to dedicate this song to this pretty girl right here with the blonde hair I'd like to see you smile
So he sat me down one day and told me these words He told me these words and these words I give to you and this is energy and we all want it so thank you
you know what he told me?
He told me...(last resort)
