V1

I grew up watching white horses
You grew up fifty miles away from sea
I was eggshells and shy secrets
You were wading in possibilities

It's the middle of june and rain pours down
Is it raining with you

CHORUS

Take it easy
Don't let borders brake your heart
Take it easy
Make your own waves where you are
When the sun comes up
We'll be warm enough
Take it easy
Breathe in light, my love
We're alright my love

V2

You were drinking and daydreaming
And I was decaf and sober all the time
You would look for the right reason
I was too busy wallowing mine

As these moments move further apart
And the latitude lightens your heart
