Whisper that you notice me
When I come up for air
And sing me a brighter song,
One that stands for better times than now,

I was lost, I was cold, I was far away,
I was calm when you noticed, I was far away
When the aftermath is over and all my breaths are gone
And my heart can shake from the memories

I have my hands on both walls,
You remind me that all my sins are gone
And what's been lost will never be found
And once I'm gone, I'll never be found

I was lost, I was cold, I was far away,
I was calm when you noticed, I was far away
When the aftermath is over and all my breaths are
gone
And my heart can shake from the memories

Can you breathe me in?
Do you know what you mean to me?
If I am wrong then I don't know what road I'm on
And I don't know which way to turn,
So whisper that you notice me

I was lost, I was cold, I was far away,
I was calm when you noticed, I was far away
When the aftermath is over and all my breaths are
gone
And my heart can shake from the memories

Sing a song to the angels
Sing a song for me
(I was lost, I was cold)
Sing a song to the angels
(I was calm when you noticed)
Sing a song for me
