I should've kissed you there
I should've held your face
I should've watched those eyes
Instead of run in place

I should've called you out
I should've said your name
I should've turned around
I should've looked again...

But oh, I'm staring at the mess I made
I'm staring at the mess I made.
I'm staring at the mess I made
As you turn you take your heart and walk away

I should've held my ground
I could've been redeemed
For every second chance
That changed it's mind on me

I should've spoken up
I should've proudly claimed
That all my heads to blame
For all my heart's mistakes

Chorus

And it's you (x4)

And it's falling down
As you walk away
And it's on me now
As you go...

Chorus

And it's falling down
As you walk away
And it's on me now
As you go...

Chorus
