I turn my head,
I can't shake the look you gave me
I'm as good as dead,
Cause all those eyes are all it takes
And all, I want, is you
So I pulled away
All I do is sit and wait
And I might as well
Write the words right on my face
That all, I want, is you
Always you

Because I've kept my heart under control
But lately, all this time is taking it's toll
Said I tried to but I can't hold back what's deep in my soul
So darling please believe me
I want you and you just have to know

And all my fears,
Creep and crawl across my skin
These four walls,
Are after me and moving in
And all, all that I want to do, oh
Is give up, give in,
And let this one stay where it is
But I don't suppose I will

Because I've kept my heart under control
But lately, all this time is taking it's toll
Said I tried to but I can't hold back what's deep in my
soul
So darling please forgive me
I want you and you just have to know

That one of these days
I'm gonna find myself away
I'll find the courage
I'll find the grace
Oh and I'm going to know, just what to say
Oh and you'll walk on up
When you want this love

And you've had enough
And you're giving it up

Because I've kept my heart under control
But lately, all this time is taking it's toll
Said I tried to but I can't hold back what's deep in my
soul
So darling please forgive me
I want you and you just have to know

Kept my heart, under control
It's under control baby
And darling don't you let this go
It's deep down in my soul
I want you and you just have to know
It's under control
Darling please don't let this go
Baby baby baby please
Baby girl ohh ohh
It's under control
