Never thought I'll be the broken heart
I gave too much of me to play this part
But the lights went down - it's over, it's over

Always thought you'll be a part of me
Now without you, it's so hard to breathe
See the curtain closed - it's over, it's over

Comin' home later
Different shade of lipsticks on your collar
Pocket full of digits
Should have been smarter
But sometimes this love can make you blind

I'm trying to wake up wake up
I can't seem to get my heart to
Say no say no
Every time you wanna come through
I should have known
You never can trust a boy
Just a boy

I'm trying to let go let go
I can't seem to get my heart to
Say no say no
Every time you wanna come through
I should have known
You never can trust a boy
Just a boy

You are the light I needed in the dark
You were the one for me right from the start
I find it hard to say - it's over, it's over

I can't believe I didn't see the signs
Took so long to read between the lines
Now the final act is over, it's over

Comin' home later
Different shade of lipsticks on your collar
Pocket full of digits

Should have been smarter
But sometimes this love can make you blind

I'm trying to wake up wake up
I can't seem to get my heart to
Say no say no
Every time you wanna come through
I should have known
You never can trust a boy
Just a boy

I'm trying to let go let go
I can't seem to get my heart to
Say no say no
Every time you wanna come through
I should have known
You never can trust a boy
Just a boy

I close my eyes to all the games you play
But now I know it's time to walk away

I'm trying to wake up wake up
I can't seem to get my heart to
Say no say no
Every time you wanna come through
I should have known
Just a boy

I'm trying to let go let go
I can't seem to get my heart to
Say no say no
Every time you wanna come through
I should have known
Just a boy
