This is a wake up call ask yourself who you are asses the damage thats been done is it enough to get up and run this is the last time i'll ever help to mend you so take what you can get believe every word that i said

Just sit back and we'll talk of how lifes been so hard sit down i could talk the night away and as the sun goes down, i'll watch you eyes fading
out
leaving hope for better days

So send my best regards, cuz I dont know who you are and I lost everything I loved, just to move on from what I once was lets turn a new page, the sun will start a new day where we learn from our mistakes and forget all of our old ways

soon enough you'll remember me, come running back i wont help you breath, im so sorry, your always quick to apologize, keep cutting ties with your lying eyes, im so sorry.

and i hope that this all turns out ok, if you would give life a chance, then you might find your way, keep running back, its all the same, when every line rolls off your tongue so easy.

Just sit back and we'll talk of how lifes been so hard
