How am I to live?
When everything is gone
What is there to give?
When all you are is none

Could you still taste our closeness?
Could you breathe me in your life?

I want to be off with you (I want to)
So let me set this fire away
I want to be off with you (I want to)
So let me set this fire away

Who am I to be?
Is this the same intention?
Are you still a part of me?
In this resurrection

Could you still taste our closeness?
Could you breathe me in your life?

I want to be off with you (I want to)
So let me set this fire away
I want to be off with you (I want to)
So let me set this fire away

Life is so whimsical,
Where to we head off
Life's unfair take me away
To become a slip of life

Could you still taste our closeness?
Could you breathe me in your life?

I want to be off with you (I want to)
So let me set this fire away
