You escape like a runaway train
Up and down the tracks again
My heart's beating like a steam-boat tugging
All your burdens, on my shoulders

In the mourning, I'll rise
In the mourning, I'll let you die
In the mourning, all my worries

Now there's nothing but time that's wasted
And words that have no backbone
Now it seems like the whole world's waiting
Can you hear the echos fading?

In the mourning, I'll rise
In the mourning, I'll let you die
In the mourning, all my sorries

And it takes all my strength, not to dig you up from the ground in which you lay
The biggest part of me
You were the greatest thing
And now you're just a memory to let go of

In the mourning, I'll rise
In the mourning, I'll let you die
In the mourning, all my sorries

Well, I've been afraid of changing
Cause I've built my life around you
But time makes you bolder
Children get older and I'm getting older too

So take this love and take it down
Well, I climb a mountain and you turn around
And I saw my reflection in the snow-covered hills
Oh, the landslide brought me down

The landslide brought me down

In the mourning, I'll rise
In the mourning, I'll let you die
In the mourning, all my sorries
