It's been a week since I left you babe
And I'm goin' miles and miles away
Oh I wish that I could stay there with you
To share the pain and the joy we're goin' through

There's always somethin' in the way you look at me
Your gentle voice that keeps lingerin' in my ear
Those sweet words that you have said to me
Are the only things that I use so I can live

Girl, I can't stand not being by your side
Coz' it's you that keeps runnin' through my mind
I never thought that this day would come
No, no, no, no, I won't cry for the joy of some

So I guess I really miss you dear
It is you that's all I wanna hear
I miss your touch, your love and your cherry lips
Leaving you babe is ain't worth all of these

Oooh, I don't wanna see you cry
It's your sweet smile that keeps me strong and alive
I'm goin' crazy if this would last any longer
I hope this pain for me would all be over

I miss you babe
You know I love you
So Let me just put it this way...
