[Mike]

Well I'm aching and you're aching,
With these dull and empty hearts
We waiting for somebody
To rip our ribs apart,
And to seize with a steady hand
Our dull and empty hearts,
Our hearts

[Katie]

And I'm taking and you're taking
We've forgotten how to give
I'm faking it, you're breaking it
It's just the way it is
So we'll leave here tonight,
But not before we give each other back our hearts

[Both]

'Cause our love,
Left us long ago
And we were both asleep
Leaving bloodstains in the snow

[Mike]

Leaving bloodstains in the snow

[Katie]

I'm waiting and you're waiting
But this train's not gonna come
Your voice has started grating
And I hate what we've become
So theres no future at this station
We're just feeding off the crumbs
Of our hearts

[Both]

I'm shaking and you're shaking
It's just the way its got to be
In this love abandoned Autumn,
We'll go raking up the leaves, yeah
The leaves that leaves that have fallen

From these cold and dying trees,
In our hearts

'Cause our love
And we were both asleep,
Leaving bloodstains in the snow

Well I'm lonely like you're lonely
But it's only 'cause it's thrown me
Like it's thrown you
I don't own you,
And my darling, you don't own me

And it's kicking and it's yelling,
And it's bruising and it's swelling
But the writing's on the wall,
And we both know what it's been telling us to do
Telling us to do

[Katie]
Well I'm crying and you're crying
Into silent salty lakes
The road has turned to ice
And we haven't any brakes
So while the wall keeps getting closer,
I fear it's too late
Not to break our hearts
