The tower I've been
A brick I am
A statue so grand
I feed your sun
But I never thought
That I would be burned like this

Your rays of evil licking my skin
So hear my prayer now
Teach me to win
Or I'll be gone

Blinded by false innocence
Steal my wings
And I die slowly
Cracked smile, deceivable eyes
I'm burned by the wind
And I die slowly

These days I'm dirt
Bring the rain
Because I am the desert
I feed your sun but I never thought
I'll be burned like this
