Knowing it isn't safe but I can't walk
I'm just waiting for me I'm watching but I can't see this world and life how it's lived My inmost feelings fusing in me and without a shell they're running out somewhere making my soul bare

Don't watch don't speak I'm learning to live
I see I'm incomplete Like a newborn I'm preening my feathers still wet outside it feels so frightening And in my ear a cruising breeze it sounds unsafe maybe it takes me there blowing me over

(When) I am here and you are near
on the darkest road along this stream
I have to go this time
I know you were the angel crossing

Here without my shelter I'm nothing at all but still I'm trying to take it I'm watching as the others go on living their lives
I wonder how they make it
And if it rains I know I will break And if someone says a word I can't take I will fall into pieces

When I am near and you are here Thru' the darkest I borrow you near
And after all the time has gone we were the angels crossing

Just as I was to dare I stumble and fall But I'm trying to walk thru' the fear in me feeling the angels crossing

(When) I am here and you are near
on the darkest road along this stream
I have to go this time

I know we were the angels crossing

When I am near and you are here
Thru' the darkest I borrow you near
And after all the time has gone
we'll be the angels crossing
